

2. COMPLETE VERSION

OF RECTOR'S ORDER

no. 9/2020

on the provision of study programs and courses and on the conduct of examinations at CTU in Prague, in connection with measures to reduce the risk of infection with the corona virus

I.

Introductory provisions

- (1) This Order is issued in connection with measures taken by the government of the Czech Republic, by relevant ministries and by other organs in connection with reducing the risk of infection by the corona virus; the provisions in this Order are not valid in cases where stricter conditions, regulations and approaches are laid down in legal rulings or in other binding measures taken by a higher legal power¹.
- (2) In order to contribute towards reducing the risk of infection with the corona virus, I issue these temporary and exceptional measures aimed at providing study programs and courses and at making it possible for examinations to be held, and also assessments, classified assessments, defences of theses, etc. (referred to hereafter as "examinations"), state final examinations (hereafter "SFE") and state doctoral examinations (hereafter "SDE") in this exceptional situation.
- (3) In order to implement this Order, the vice-rector for bachelor and master's studies and the vice-rector for science, creative activities and doctoral studies are authorized to issue a methodological instruction for the implementation of this Order.
- (4) Each type of examination can be held in accordance with the conditions laid down in this Order, and also in the subsequent methodology.

II.

Holding examinations at CTU

- (1) The ways of holding an examination are as follows:

- a) The distance method – i.e. without the simultaneous physical presence of the student taking the examination (or of a group of students taking an examination) in a location together with the examiner, or with all of the examiners, in the case of an examination commission, whereby physical presence is replaced by the use of electronic means of distance communication. Participation e.g. from home is anticipated.
- b) The semi-contact method – i.e. in cases where the examination would be expected to take place before an examination commission, but where not all members of the commission are simultaneously present in the location with the student taking the examination (or with the group of students taking the examination), whereby their physical presence is replaced by the use of electronic means of distance communication. Participation e.g. from home is anticipated.
- c) The contact method – i.e. with the simultaneous physical presence of the student taking the examination (or of a group of students taking an examination) in a location together with an examiner, or with all of the examiners, in the case of an examination commission; none of the electronic means from the semi-contact method are used.

Note: What is stated in this Order concerning the distance method of conducting examinations also refers to the semi-contact method, except when it is specifically stated otherwise, or when the difference in the approach follows from the text.

- (2) Decisions on the use of a specific method for an examination will be taken by the person responsible for the course (information must be announced not later than the time when the date of the examination appears in the IS KOS 2 information system); in the case of state final examinations, the person responsible for the study program will make the decision in agreement with the head of the institute/department: in the case of the defence of a doctoral dissertation or a state doctoral examination, the decision will be made by the dean. The established way of completing a given course (an assessment, a classified assessment, an examination, etc.) must not be changed, irrespective of the method selected for holding the examination (contact, distance, or semi-contact).
- (3) When any method is used for holding an examination, a comparable level of difficulty must be provided and the form of the examination (a written test, or an oral examination, etc.) must be preserved.
- (4) The student presents herself/himself for the examination at the set time (or very slightly in advance of this time), in order to minimize the risk of transmitting any infection.
- (5) A CTU employee responsible for conducting a given type of examination, or a person responsible for conducting a consultation or a contact class, ensures that a list is made of the persons who participated as a group in the given type of contact examination, consultation or class. The list will be kept for a period of 60 days after the end of the state of emergency in order to trace any source of infection.

- (6) If a State Final Examinations, State Doctoral Examinations, and defences of doctoral dissertations does not take place face-to-face, the secretary of the commission, who ensures that it is held in accordance with the Study and Examination regulations for students of CTU in Prague, must be present in the location of the examination, together with the printed copy of the protocol and the signature of the protocol by the student. This does not affect any duty of the secretary to be present in accordance with other regulations or internal standards. The final result of the examination will be communicated to the student immediately after the examination.
- (7) If a student is required to submit a written affirmation that she/he is not carrying an infection, a form in accordance with Supplement no. 1 to this Order is to be used.
- (8) If the distance method of examining is selected, this must be entered into the notes on the IS KOS form when the examination is announced. Students must be provided in advance with information on and the conditions for the conduct of distance examinations.
- (9) By registering for a course examination in IS KOS, or by registering for a State Final Examination, for a State Doctoral Examination or for the defence of a doctoral dissertation, or for any other type of examination, the student thereby expresses her/his agreement with the method set out for holding the examination.
- (10) By registering for a distance or semi-contact examination, a student thereby expresses her/his agreement that the course of the examination will be recorded and that the recording will be kept for a period of 5 years, and she/he thereby confirms that she/he has available functioning equipment of the following extent:
- a) A computer with the necessary SW to carry out the distance examination (she/he must negotiate freely accessible SW, or SW licensed to CTU in Prague, in accordance with the specifications in the conditions for the examination),
 - b) A web camera,
 - c) A microphone,
 - d) loudspeakers/earphones,
 - e) data connection of sufficiently high quality for audio-video-speech,
 - f) data capacity that is sufficient for transmission,
 - g) a telephone link (for the case that the network is down).
- (11) CTU in Prague will provide MS Teams and Moodle support for these platforms in support of distance and semi-contact examinations. If teachers use other platforms, these must be approved by the dean and the faculty will provide support for them, where necessary.

- (12) If a student is not able to take the examination in the specified form, she/he will send an application to the dean via the study department, or via the the department of Science and Research for the State Doctoral Examination and for the defence of a doctoral dissertation.
- (13) If in the course of an examination with the use of electronic means of distance communication there is restricted functionality of some components (e.g. if the signal goes down), the examiner (or the chairman of the examination commission) shall consider what measures to take, if need be repeating the examination with a view to keeping equal conditions in the examination for the students and, last but not least, with a view to eliminating the reality or any indication of an attempt by the student to cheat.
- (14) If the network goes down, the student shall without delay contact the examiner (or the chairman of the examination commission), and the student will explain the reason for the network going down, and the examiner will decide what further measures to take; a telephone contact for this purpose will be communicated to the student not later than at the beginning of the examination.
- (15) Prior to the beginning of an examination conducted in distance mode, it is essential to check the identity of the student.
- (16) If cheating by a student in the course of an examination is discovered, such action is a highly aggravated circumstance, which can result in expulsion of the student from the study program.
- (17) Taking a distance examination does not eliminate the requirement that students and examiners must be suitably dressed and turned out; if these requirements are not met, the examination can be terminated by the examiner.
- (18) If there are many examination candidates, the examiner will post the results in IS KOS. If a student does not accept the result, she/he must communicate this disagreement by e-mail within 24 hour after the grade was entered into IS KOS. In the case of an individual examination, the examiner announces the result to the student, and asks whether the student accepts the result.
- (19) In cases where the legislation allows members of the public to be present at some parts of the examination (either during the course of the examination, or at the announcement of the result, etc.), physical participation of members of the public is exceptionally not allowed during the validity of this Order; this participation of members of the public, or this public control mechanism, will be replaced by a recording of the course of the examination, which will be archived for a period of 5 years by the institute/faculty organizing the examination. An exception to the exclusion of members of the public can be permitted by the person responsible for the conduct and the course of the examination, provided that not more than 15 persons shall be present in the room.

III.
Final provisions

- (1) The approach according to this Order will remain valid even if the valid version of Rector's Order no. 7/2020 on reducing the risk of infection by the corona virus takes on another form.
- (2) This Order enters into force on April 28th, 2020.
